

CAROL LUE

Founder &
Executive Director,
The CaribShare
Company Limited

ABOUT CAROL

Carol Lue has extensive development and management expertise in the organic waste recycling business. She founded CaribShare Biogas, the first organic waste recycling facility in Jamaica focused on turning food waste from hotels into biogas and organic fertilizer. For nearly 3 years, CaribShare has served 8 hotels in the Montego Bay area: Sandals, RIU, Hyatt, Iberostar, Half Moon.

After a multifaceted career in international development and business sustainability spanning over 15 years in North America, Carol returned home to Jamaica to pioneer and drive organic waste recycling solutions there and across the Caribbean to help build climate resilience and promote sustainable waste management in the region. Carol holds a MS degree in Environmental Planning from the University of Toronto and a MBA degree in International Economics & Finance from Brandeis International Business School.

THE CARIBSHARE COMPANY LIMITED

The CaribShare Company Limited, also known as CaribShare Biogas, is a social enterprise and registered charity in Jamaica dedicated to researching and developing innovative energy from waste (biogas technology) and other climate resilience building technologies in Jamaica and the Caribbean.
