US Embassy in Kingston,
Jamaica

ABOUT CICI

Charsaree (Cici) Slomka currently works for the US Embassy in Kingston, Jamaica. She has international experience working in Japan and Benin previously. In Benin, she worked on human rights issues as a grants officer to award community grants that promoted civic engagement and entrepreneurship.

She has an MA in Peace and Conflict studies and has previously worked in Emergency Preparedness and Emergency Management for the U.S. District of Columbia Government and U.S. Senate. Her experience also includes the humanitarian aid training department for the Military Liaison Team at the USAID's Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance.

US EMBASSY IN KINGSTON

The US Embassy in Kingston is the main sponsor for the 2021 Food Waste Conference. The Embassy's policy priorities include promotion of responsible and democratic governance for all Jamaicans, economic growth, energy sector transformation, and shared prosperity. The Embassy continues to work with the Government of Jamaica and other stakeholders to address environmental and health challenges, strengthen law enforcement and the justice sector, and promote regional and global stability.
